

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Raymond Lee (703) 915-4889, wailee@cox.net

DC Chinatown Celebrates the Year of the Rat
Sunday January 26th, 2020 at 2:00pm

Route Start: 6th & Eye St NW | Route End: 6th & H St NW

WASHINGTON, DC (October 15, 2019) – The streets of DC’s Chinatown will fill with revelers and spectators as the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association (CCBA) hosts the annual Chinese New Year parade. This year, 4718 in the Chinese Lunar Calendar, is the Year of the Rat, representing carefree fun, good fortune and wealth. Come early for a bite at one of the many local eateries and then grab your curb-side vantage point to witness the colorful pageantry to come. With upwards of 40,000 attendees, take METRO to Gallery Place and avoid the driving/parking hassle.

An astounding array of parade groups will banty through the streets of Chinatown ushering in the Chinese New Year. Traditional lions and dragons come to life. Bands of many types will fill the streets with a cacophony of sound. This year’s dynamic parade lineup continues to showcase the community’s vibrancy and inclusion.

The CCBA is an umbrella organization representing thirty Chinese-American organizations throughout the Greater DC Metro area. CCBA works closely with the government and local groups in order to provide services and educational programs. CCBA’s mission is to enhance the quality of life for member of the community, to promote and share an understanding of Chinese culture, and to nurture the bonds between Chinatown and our many friends and organizations in the DMV.

